You don't have to coax big and little folks to eat Kellogg's Corn Flakes

Just as soon as you serve Kellogg's you'll note fussy and faded appetites getting mighty sharp; you'll find hig bowls being handed back for "just a few more Kellogg's, mother—they're wonderful!"

And, that'll make you glad, for Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a great speed-start for the day's doings! They make for health and happy digestions! Kellogg's are never leathery or tough, but always joy-

Kellogg's—the original Corn Flakes—will be a revelation to your taste if you have been eating imitations! For your own enjoy-ment, do this:—compare the big, sunny-brown Kellogg's Corn Flakes with other "corn flakes." Eat some of Kellogg's—then try, the imitations! You'll realize then why Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the largest and fastest selling cereal in the whole world!

Do more than ask for "corn flakes." Insist upon KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package! My, but it's worth while!

BEST PROTECTION TO QUAIL

The following is taken from the "Rod and Gun" department of the Sunday Globe-Democrat:

The somewhat concerted effort that is apparent in several states, Missouri being among them, to place the quail on the song bird list, is not meeting with favor among the sportsmen of the country, nor is it considered a sensible move by many of those who are most active in the protection of birds of all kinds. Sportsmen not only oppose the movement, but resent it, and bird conservationists object to it because of its lack of feasibility. The bob white partridge is the gamest of game birds, and the sportsmen are the ones who always have protected and cared for him. To place him on the song bird list, it has been advanced, is not to protect him, but to abandon him.

In a recent statement, T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies, makes it very clear that that body, whose sole purpose, almost, is the protection of birds, does not desire to see the quail put on the songbird list. Pearson stated:

"A law placing the quail on the songbird list, or in other words giving it perpetual closed season, is likely to have a tendency to defeat the very object for which the bill was enacted. The class of people who have taken most interest in this bird in the United States is the organized sportsmen. In many states these bodies, representing thousands of good, worth-while citizens, in order to perpetuate their opportunities to go affeld with gun and dog, have expedied were time and legge same of good, worth-while citizens, in order to perpetuate their opportunities to go afield with gun and dog, have expended much time and large sums of money in feeding quail during the periods of heavy snows and have also been responsible for the introduction of tens of thousands of quail for the purpose of restocking depleted coveys. Many of these organizations are also active in apprehending and reporting those who kill the quail by illegal methods or at unseasonable times.

"It is my opinion that, especially in many of the Northern and Central states, the quail today would be almost as rare as the passenger pigeon if it had not been for the efforts of the game protective organizations of

If in attempting to protect quail the bird is removed for all time from the list of birds that may ever be hunted, you virtually take from it the solicitous protective influences of the one large class of our citizens who have done most for its influences of the one large class of our citizens who have done most for its protection in the past.

"My experience has been that in most instances the fortunes of the fortunes of the quail may with a fair degree of safety be left in the hands of the game protective associations, which have an intense personal interest in the preservation of the species."

"After a spell of typhoid fever 7 years ago I began to suffer from indigestion and gas in my stomach and colic attacks. This gradually became so bad that my doctor advised an operation for gail stones. A friend advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy which I did with splendid results. My friends were astonished at my rapid improvement. I have no more bloating and can eat anything I wish." It removes the catarrhal mucua from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis.
